

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE!

[Forest Hill, Texas-November 28, 2007] Oh, the weather outside will be... SNOWING!!!!

Fluffy white flakes will be blowing through Forest Hill tomorrow night at our 28th annual "Holiday Program and Tree Lighting ceremony." Festivities begin at 7:30PM at the City Hall complex, 6800 Forest Hill Drive. Santa will arrive via fire truck at approximately 8:00PM and hand out treats to the first 200 children who whisper their wishes to him while sitting on his knee!

The City will also use this opportunity to serve those less fortunate in our community with our toy drive, set to start at 6:00PM. We will be collecting new, unwrapped toys until 8:00PM at the same location.

"Once again, we will be showing our COMMUNITY DRIVEN spirit with another fun-filled event for our citizens. This is the perfect time of year to show just how much we appreciate our residents and it's also a time for them to give back to those in need," said City Manager, David Miller. For more information about tomorrow night's events, please call (817) 568-3000.

We bet the City of Forest Hill will be the only place in the Metroplex with snow tomorrow night!
